The Sutherlin Family

Battling: 39-year-old, Jackie

Jackie Sutherlin is a single mother of an amazing 5-year-old little girl, Mckayla. She first noticed the mass in her breast in August of this year. She immediately took action and received a 3D mammogram and ultrasound. The Radiologist told her the mass was a swollen lobular gland, to not to worry about it and to come back in six months. Jackie wasn't satisfied with that answer and decided to get a second opinion. On Oct. 9th, her life flipped upside down when the unthinkable was mentioned... you may have cancer. The following Tuesday, Jackie was diagnosed with Stage 3 Lobular Carcinoma.

The battle is a learning process that Jackie takes step by step. Although she is terrified and scared, she remains positive in her outlook and believes this new journey will only make her stronger. She takes each moment as it comes and realizes even in her storm, God will guide her.

Her daughter, Mckayla, has been amazing and is her little trooper. When Jackie cries, Mckayla lets her know, "It will all be okay Mommy". Jackie has decided to share her story to let others know that cancer warriors are battling cancer but they are still normal, living people with families and jobs. She knows she was given a second chance in life and she's taking it!

This year we join together to help this family have a wonderful Christmas!
