Battling: 2-year-old, Noah

Noah is a 2-year-old little boy who has been battling an aggressive brain tumor since June 2017. He has undergone two brain surgeries and six cycles of intensive chemotherapy.

Noah and his family live in Livingston, and the travel to and from the hospital have been exhausting for his young mom. When Noah was first diagnosed, Shanaiyah was working on completing high school and had to put everything on hold while they fought for Noah's life.

In January, life seemed to be getting back to normal as Noah's treatment had officially completed. But then, at Noah's 8-month follow-up brain imaging, it showed a metastatic recurrence of his choroid plexus carcinoma. A week later, his spine MRI showed a tumor as well. It was at this point that Noah's mom was given the devastating news that his cancer was now "incurable".

"We are now exploring our options and doing our best to make the right decisions for Noah. He has been through so much and he's not even 3 yet. And my wish is to give him the best Christmas ever. It's hard to not know what the future holds," Shanaiyah says.

Because of their financial situation, Noah and his mom live with her younger siblings and Noah's grandmother. They are so very grateful to be receiving help with Christmas this year!

This year we join to help this family have a wonderful Christmas!
